THE HAMPTONS, N.Y.

If you don't mind cooler weather, you can live it up at this playground of the New York City elite in a condo suite or beach house--at non-New York prices. Weekend rates for an ocean-view loft at the Baron's Cove Inn, for example, start at run $150 a night in October and November, compared with $499 in July and August. And we found several water-front beach houses in the area available for rent at more than 50% off their summer rates

You probably won't be doing much sunbathing, but you can go sailing, sea kayaking, fishing, antiquing or wine tasting -- or simply relax in front of the picturesque view. Plan your trip at the right time, and you could even enjoy some fall foliage
